

ZORAH BEACH
HOTEL

Guajiru Beach, Trairi, Ceará, Brazil

exclusive asian spirit with tropical touches

Located facing the sea, on the beach of Guajiru, in the Trairi municipality, approximately 140 km from Fortaleza, Zorah Beach searched for inspiration in the Asian spirit, with touches of the tropics, in the formation of its concept of exclusivity. The hotel is situated in one of the most paradisiac beaches of the Cearense coast to offer even it's most demanding clients an atmosphere of tranquility, sophistication and privacy in an ambience circled by natural beauty, between them, shifting sand dunes, a white sand beach, warm waters and large natural bathing pools at low tide.

The decor with Asian references is a high point of Zorah Beach Hotel and. All pieces, sculptures, objects, furniture and fixtures came from Bali, India and the Middle East, some made to order and some selected antiques. Antiques are a highlight in the hotel. The main door of the lobby and the ceiling of the reception table are remnants from mansions known as 'Haveli' in India, besides other objects of art, authentic antiques from diverse regions. Exclusive pieces from Rajasthan, painted in vibrant colors such as cabinets, bedside tables and chests lend a special touch. Chandeliers and bronze fixtures with glass elements of different shapes and sizes, typical of Turkey and Morocco give a special touch to some ambients. Statues and various items such as vases and jugs, are carved out of a white stone and handcrafted in Bali. Pieces of bronze and metal are handcrafted by award-winning M Khan, an Indian artist, and are spread over all areas of the hotel. Porcelains are from the renowned school of Jaipur Blue Pottery also hand made, and have the signature of the artist who was responsible for the restoration of art in India, Kripal Singh.

In our exuberant tropical garden, you will find many species of plants and flowers from diverse regions of Brazil. The colours and life present in this garden is another feature of the hotel.

indian food

Indian food is an exclusive delicious experience offered at the hotel. Exclusive since we are the only restaurant in Ceará and one of the few in Brasil where it is possible to taste food made in the indian clay oven, Tandoor. The menu was designed by the Indian chef Taslim Ahmed during his 3 months stay at Zorah Beach.
